

Have you ever heard someone respond to this question, "How are you doing?" Usually the response is "fine," "good," or "not bad." There are times when life really isn't "fine" and occasionally we can detect something is a bit "off center." Life gets busy and the church body is stressed from the pressures of schedules, i.e., life.

Relationships with brothers and sisters in Christ have become a premium in our day. To help facilitate a healthy and growing relationship with Christ and one another, there are Bible Studies which meet in homes or at CBC weekly or biweekly. They are wonderful opportunities to study God's Word and participate in biblical fellowship. We know life is busy but we also know God's Word through God's people provides stability and refreshment.
